OILDALE SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH BURNT: The Oildale Seventh-day Adventist Church, at 612 Sharon Place, Bakersfield, Calif., has burned. The entire sanctuary is destroyed. Other areas that were damaged were the baptistery, backrooms behind the pulpit, and an adjacent room. The foyer was destroyed due to water damage. The fire broke out around 2 p.m. on Sept. 26 and first responders stopped it and left the scene at approximately 6:45 p.m. the same day. There were no injuries. No one was in the church at the time of the incident. According to Joshua Mura, Oildale Church pastor, fires were simultaneously going nearby; a house right across the street two doors down was also on fire. The church was scheduled to have an evangelist event this coming Friday, Sept. 29 at 7 p.m. in the sanctuary and that will convene as planned. Members will be purchasing a tent for the evangelist meetings. We are asking for prayers that we can rebuild quickly and we ask people to pray for a blessing for the upcoming meetings, says Mura. Central California Conference officials are praising God that no one was hurt in the fire and are calling for prayers on behalf of the congregation who experienced this loss and will now be united in rebuilding the Lord's house.
